LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 279, Chesbro. Public postsecondary education: excuse of tuition and fees.

Existing law requires the Regents of the University of California, the Board of Directors of the Hastings College of the Law, and the Trustees of the California State University to excuse the mandatory systemwide tuition and fees of any surviving spouse or surviving child, natural or adopted, of a deceased person who was a resident of the state, who was employed by a public agency, as defined, whose principal duties consisted of active law enforcement service or active fire suppression and prevention, and who was killed in the performance of active law enforcement or active fire suppression and prevention duties. Until January 1, 2004, this provision also applied to the surviving spouse or surviving child of a person who died while performing these duties, and who was employed as a contractor, or as an employee of a contractor, performing services for a public agency, as defined. This provision is applicable to the Regents of the University of California only if the regents, by resolution, make it applicable.

This bill would once more extend the application of this provision to the surviving spouse or surviving child of a contractor, or an employee of a contractor, as defined, performing services for a public agency. The bill would require that a surviving child of a contractor, or of an employee of a contractor, be enrolled as an undergraduate student at a campus of the University of California or the California State University and document that his or her annual income, including the value of any support received from a parent, does not exceed the maximum household income and asset level, as defined, for an applicant for a Cal Grant B award.

The bill would declare that it is to take effect immediately as an urgency statute.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 68120 of the Education Code, as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 347 of the Statutes of 2001, is amended to read:

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to prevent hardship for those students currently attending public postsecondary institutions who have received waivers for tuition and fees under Section 68120 of the Education Code as it existed prior to January 1, 2004, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
